REMARKS

25X1 1. The Pasewalk (N 54/06) improvised airfield was unoccupied and unguarded. There were high tension lines along the edge of the field. Trenches and fox-holes were in the northern half of the field which was hilly and sparsely sodded. The southern half was also rolling ground and had a thicker grass cover. An area of about 150 x 700 meters was suitable for use by light planes. There were no buildings or technical installations, except for eleven splinter-proof revetments for small planes, probably built during the war, on the southern edge of the field. *

25X1 [REDACTED] Comment. There were no indications of intended reconstruction of the former airfield.
